TION .- The feature of special interest at Centenary (Methodist) church on Sunday was the anniversary celebration of the Sunday school, held in the audience-room of the church on Sunday afternoon. A large crowd assembled to witness this annual festivity. The church was elaborately decorated with evergreens and flowers. Pulpit and chancel 9 o'clock mass, when eighty-six premiums, and recess in the rear of the pulpit were all adorned in a most tasteful style. Inside of the chancel there were piles of boxes, looking for all the world like granite, each sepa- Gibbons, who also addressed a few happy termination of Nineteenth street be rejectrate box bearing some scriptural motto, the design of which could not easily be divined by the spectators. There was silence, when the pastor arose and said: "I hear no response; but can you not embody and express your answer in a symbol that will furnish your response?" Then the mystery as to the boxes, large and small, was solved. The scholars, in pairs of two girls on one side and two boys on the RENT, and possession given imother of a large and massive pedestal, coming up quietly from the front seats, and apposite the Old Market. by alternation proceeded to lay on piece by piece, (with very sweet and appropriate musie between each pair of boxes laid down by the little workers) till there grew up what tarned out to be a very large, well-proportiened cross, with transverse beam and topmest part, on which was laid an elaborately wrought, massive floral crown, the whole rising twelve or fifteen feet from the floor of the chancel, in front of the pulpic. As the workers would lay down their blocks one would repeat the motto and the other an appropriate text of Scripture, then would follow the music in the interval before the next pair of children came forward. Step-tadders were employed as the imposing pile grew higher and higher. When completed, there stood the cross, with its impressive mottoes and inscriptions, as the answer to the questions of the superintendent. The pastor made an appropriate short address, after which prizes were awarded to the scholars for prompt attendance and for perfeet recitations. Two or three received dou-

The 15th of July was fixed upon as the day, and a committee appointed to select the place for holding the same. The following gentlemen were appointed a committee to perfect the arrangements: Messrs. It is more than probable that the pic-nic will be held at the new brewery grounds, below Rocketts, and that trains will be secured to run thereto through the Church Hill tunnel, besides having borts on the river

Yesterday Justice White inquired into the facts, and finding Childress and Jones to be at fault, fined each $5, besides placing the former under bonds to keep the peace. Donohue, forgetting his injury, generously became surety for both of them and they were released. Childress then voluntarily took an oath before D. C. Richardson, notary public, to abstain from the use of intexicating drinks for six months.
